FOSE, GOVSEC/U.S. LAW ANNOUNCES FREE IT SECURITY TRAINING AND EXAM PREPARATION
*CISSP Exam Prep Clinic Hosted by Leading U.S. Information Assurance/Security Graduate Program

FALLS CHURCH, Va. – March 1, 2010 –1105 Government Information Group, the leading provider of integrated information and media for the government information technology (IT) market, today announced the addition of a complimentary Certified Information Systems Security Professional (CISSP) Prep Clinic at FOSE and GovSec/U.S. Law on March 24, 2010. This CISSP Exam Prep Clinic is open to all FOSE and GovSec/U.S. Law attendees seeking to advance in the information security arena and comply with Department of Defense Directive 8570. The CISSP Clinic will be presented by the University of Fairfax, an authorized (ISC)² Education Partner, on Wednesday, March 24 from 9:00am – 12:00pm. GovSec/U.S. Law will be co-located with FOSE for the second year at the Walter E. Washington Convention Center in Washington, D.C. FOSE will be held March 23-25 and GovSec/U.S. Law will be held March 23-24, 2010.

“The CISSP Clinic is designed to help IT security professionals pass the CISSP exam the first time,” said Dr. Victor Berlin, President of the University of Fairfax, the leading information security graduate institution in the U.S. “The University has helped over 5,000 candidates prepare for the CISSP Exam and then advance towards or attain positions as chief information security officers, chief security officers or senior security engineers,” Dr Berlin added.

The CISSP Exam Prep Clinic will include more than 150 test taking tips, touching on all ten domains of information security recognized in the (ISC)² CISSP Common Body of Knowledge (CBK®). The clinic will be lead by Eric Handy, a CISSP instructor and leading information security practitioner. The program is free to all pre-registered attendees.

“This session is yet another way we are working to make FOSE and GovSec/U.S. Law the premiere venue for government professionals,” said Don Berey, Show Director for 1105 Government Information Group. “We hope it makes FOSE and GovSec/U.S. Law an ideal place not just to explore the latest issues or understand the latest technologies, but to advance careers and help better serve the government mission.”

For additional guidance on CISSP, attendees can visit the University of Fairfax and (ISC)² representatives at Booth 1810.
